As an educational explorer and reshapener, Xi'an Jiaotong-Liverpool University takes international specialised elites and international industry elites as its education goals in response to future social development trends and needs. On the basis of continuing to deepen and improve the existing education model of XJTLU SIP Campus, XJTLU Entrepreneur College (Taicang) will cultivate international industry elites with Syntegrative Education model.

On 26 March 2018, the Taicang Municipal People's Government and XJTLU signed a framework agreement for collaboration. On 1 April 2019, the first land was obtained. On 29 April 2019, the construction started. The campus is expected to open in September 2022.

This guidebook is intended to provide information on various aspects of the new campus and life in Taicang for all staff, students, partners and friends who follow us with interest and enthusiasm.

Welcome to XJTLU Entrepreneur College (Taicang)!

TAICANG AT A GLIMPSE 太仓一览

GEOGRAPHICAL POSITION 地理位置

Taicang is a county-level city under the jurisdiction of Suzhou, in Jiangsu Province. Located along the Yangtze River, northwest of Shanghai, Taicang is adjacent to Baoshan District and Jiading District of Shanghai in the south, Kunshan City in the west, and Changshu City in the north, and benefits from a superior geographical position, and solid economic foundation, as well as a superb living environment.

HISTORY AND CULTURE 历史文化

Highlighted with a history of more than 4,500 years, Taicang has been an important seaport of great commercial importance, and is known as the "Six Kingdoms Wharf" since Yuan and Ming Dynasties, and is also the starting point of the famous navigator of the Ming Dynasty-Zheng He's voyages to the West. Taicang was also called Loudong in ancient times for its geographic location of being in the east of Loujiang River. It is also the birthplace of Jiangnan Sizhu and Loudong culture.

ECONOMIC DEVELOPMENT 经济发展

As a county-level city with the greatest potential of economic development in Jiangsu Province, Taicang has maintained its leading position in the ranking of "Top 100 Counties in China" for years. According to the "2021 China's Top 100 County Economy Research", Taicang ranked No. 6 with the regional GDP of over RMB157 billion and the annual general public budget revenue of RMB19 billion, representing the highest "financial contribution" of 12.07% among all counties in China.

HOMETOWN OF GERMAN ENTERPRISES

As the "Hometown of German Enterprises", Taicang has gathered more than 400 internationally renowned companies such as Schaeffler, BorgWarner, Brose, etc., forming a high-end equipment manufacturing industry cluster dominated by automotive core components production, representing the first-class industrial base for equipment manufacturing in China.

AVIATION AND AEROSPACE

Focusing on the construction of a modern industrial system and the goal of innovative economic development, the Taicang Municipal People's Government has accelerated the planning of leading aerospace industries. Three functional parks, namely Aerospace Parts Industrial Park, Aerospace New Materials Innovation Park and Loujiang Aerospace Industrial Park, have been completed successfully.

BIOMEDICINE

After years of development, Taicang's biopharmaceutical industry has formed a mature ecosystem dominated by the Biomedical Industrial Park and supported by Bioport and Sino-Germany Life Science Park. At present, more than 300 biopharmaceutical enterprises gather in Taicang, specialising in three sectors of biopharmaceuticals, medical devices and medical service outsourcing.

ENVIRONMENT 生活环境

As a modern garden city, Taicang boasts a greenery coverage ratio of 42.2%, providing residents with a variety of parks and green lands, represented by Jincang Lake Park and Shaxi Ancient Town.

LOUJIANG NEW TOWN 娄江新城

XJTLU Entrepreneur College (Taicang) sets in Loujiang New Town, which, with an area of 48.9 square kilometers, is located south to Jiading District, Shanghai, at the conjunction of Shanghai-Nantong Railway and Southern Jiangsu High Speed Railway. The preliminary planning of Loujiang New Town consists of "one centre, two axes, three hubs and four districts", of which the centre is the eastern sub-centre of Taicang; two axes are the Baiyundu Road Ronghu Axis and the College Road Science and Technology Innovation Axis; three hubs are the business hub, the science and education hub and the residents hub; and four districts are the Linhu International Community, the Science and Education Innovation District, the High-speed Railway Business District, and the High-tech Intelligent Manufacturing District.

Loujiang New Town is bond to become the gateway of Taicang to Shanghai, and serves as an important hub connecting neighboring cities, and also the frontier for the future development.
